Edit: When I say multiplayer I mean multiple people can be in a world at the same time and see and fight each other. Typically I get online with a friend to work on our builds. We would then enter the game together, and see where we were standing and where others were. We would then just get to it to find out if we were going to mess with each others builds. Certain items, like fairy wings, require lots of components and things to work. Your characters stats will be based on your level, and thus you need to get to the first major city you level up in in order to buy the items you need. This is one of the main things I meant to mention. To do this you need to first level up in the game, as the majority of what you do in the game will be obtaining and finding these items. Once you level up you are no longer level capped. You are level capped as you progress through the adventure, but once you level up you have a larger level cap. (The second night your character is level 47, or if your avatar is level 4 it will be 50. This is based on the level cap that was in the game when you first logged in). The city your at is a major building. It has 3 floors. On the first floor you are in the city. the second floor is the upper city, and the third is the arks. The characters you had when you left were all tied to your avatar, which means that the city is tied to your main character. When you level up the city is also leveled up. This means more people, more items, more lights, and more everything. I would recommend letting your avatar run around in the city to get the items you need. It can be dangerous though, so you will want to watch out for the raiders, even on your own. When you are in the city you can log out your avatar to chat with friends. This makes it easier to set up your builds when you are free. There is also a market for your in-game currency, which is called zeny. You can buy things in the markets by clicking on the add to cart button. In exchange for zeny, your avatar can buy various upgrades. There is also a single money shop
